Colin Grant, late of Auchmithie, Arbroath, died on 10 August 2001 leaving the residue of his estate to be held in a Charitable Trust with the income of the same to be made over to Charitable Institutions as chosen by his Trustees.

There are now Trustees in place who meet twice yearly in March and September to consider Applications and make awards to worthy recognised Charities.

The annual distribution is made over to voluntary groups based, or supporting works in Angus and, in particular, Arbroath.

The Trustees are particularly keen to support (a) projects which improve the quality of life of the residents of Angus (and in particular Arbroath). (b) organisations involved in community activities (c) groups assisting the disadvantaged and those isolated by mainstream society (d) groups assisting the elderly and the sick (e) activities promoting good citizenship in the young and (f) projects promoting sport and artistic development.

The Trustees also need to be satisfied as to the suitability and strengths of the Applicant organisations, having particular regard to the enthusiasm, vision, efficiency and resourcefulness of the Applicant organisation.

The Trustees will not normally give grants in the following circumstances:

1. To any organisations which are not recognised as a Charity by the Inland Revenue.
2. To individuals, including students.
3. Sponsorship or marketing appeals.
4. Activities which collect funds for subsequent re-distribution to others.
5. Expeditions or overseas travel.
